Y. W. C. A. to Stage Big Swimming Meet Saturday

Aquatic Stars Will Appear at Castle Pool at Waikiki—Miss Ruth Stacker Will Have Many of Her Pupils in Different Events—Athletics at Association Becoming a Feature—Miss Andersen Plans for Tennis, Baseball and Basket-ball

Featuring the week in amateur athletics the Y. W. C. A. will hold a big swimming meet at the Castle pool at Waikiki on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. This meet has been the most talked of event among the fair sex, and a large entry list is expected when the various events are staged.

Miss Ruth Stacker, who has made the fastest time ever recorded in Hawaii in the 50-yard swim, and who is at the present time the swimming instructor at the Y. W. C. A., has been successful in her teaching and many promising swimmers have been instructed in the art. In the list of pupils are many who should make fast time in the various events.

Swimming Encouraged.

Swimming has been one of the branches of athletics that has received encouragement at the Y. W. C. A., and when the first event is started a large crowd is expected to be present at the Castle pool. The program as outlined will consist of a number of events, including practically every department of aquatic.

The first event, the four-style relay, will consist of four different strokes, and should prove to be a novel event. The first relay will be made by the breast stroke, the second swimmer will use the back stroke, the third the crawl and the last the side stroke. In this way the swimmers and spectators will be given an opportunity to judge of the different styles of instruction at the Y. W. C. A.

How to Swim.

In the second event the pupil will give an exhibition of the method of teaching, showing the pupil as she takes the water, and the antics that are gone through. Then the first steps in teaching are given, followed by instruction in the various strokes. To those who contemplate taking a course in swimming instruction this event should prove to be invaluable.

The third event will show the young ladies in an imitation of boys in the harbor when the ships come in. A number of pennies, presumably secured from the Y. W. C. A. cafeteria, will be thrown into the pool and the young ladies will make an effort to secure enough to purchase a new bonnet.

Little Tots to Perform.

To those who realize that the young children of Honolulu know the art of swimming the fourth event will be unusually interesting. Miss Stacker has a large class of children, none of them being over 10 years of age, and this class will do various stunts in the pool, including swimming the strokes which they have learned. Following this will be a stunt race by the Y. W. C. A. members.

The sixth event will be an under water swim for members of the Y. W. C. A. This will be followed by an obstacle race. Two girls from each club will have their hands and feet tied and will race across the pool. Following this will be a plunge for distance. The ninth event will consist of a race for three minutes, the young lady who makes the longest distance to be awarded the honor. Following this event the young ladies will compete in a full dress race, where they will show the necessary speed in the art of rescue work in the water.

Five Clubs Entered.

Bleachers have been erected to accommodate the crowds, and from the present outlook the ladies of the association state that they will have a banner crowd in attendance. Tickets are on sale at the Y. W. C. A. All points made in the swimming meet will count in the final summing up of the club standing. Five clubs will enter the various events: The Hui Holoia, Lal Mamo, Athletics, McKinley and Kaulaia.

Aside from the swimming meet the young ladies of the association are contesting in other branches of athletics, and this evening the McKinley and Holoia will meet in a volleyball game. Miss Thelma Auerbach will captain the high school squad and Mrs. A. Guerrero will lead the Holoia team. Volley ball has been one of the favorite sports at the Y. W. C. A., and the final contest this evening is looked to be closely contested.

Athletics Booming.

Miss Leonora Andersen, physical instructor at the Y. W. C. A., has outlined a schedule of athletics which promises to bring out some good talent. In addition to volleyball there will be indoor baseball, basket-ball and tennis.

The tennis tournament will begin in May, and will be held on the courts at the Holoia. A number of the younger players have proved to be adepts with the racket, and with tournament play started Miss Andersen soon expects to have a number of leading tennis players members of the association. With all branches of athletics represented the life at the Y. W. C. A. is becoming busy and those in charge have taken the stand that more and better athletics means a more enjoyable and better life.

POTTS-WILLIAMS BOUT SHOULD BE WELL ATTENDED

Fans Will Welcome Clash Between Two Scrappers at Armory Saturday Night

Joe Potts and Rufus Williams will mix it on Saturday evening at the armory in a 25-round bout which promises to be one of the best that has been staged here in some time. Potts has been working out on the road every day, and looks stronger than when he appeared in his last show in Honolulu.

Rufus Williams is a wise bird, and he has gone about his training in a way that means business. Rufus has a good head and a lot of speed, but it will take lots of staying powers to last through the 25 rounds. The colored boxer has been skipping the rope and working with the medicine ball for some time, and his sparring partners state that he will be ready for the big clash.

Potts Doing Road Work.

Joe Potts is somewhat over his natural weight, but he will gradually work off the extra poundage and should be in the pink of condition when the gong sounds to open the tilt. Potts showed that he has a punch the other day, when he sent one of his sparring partners to Morpheusville.

Captain Glassford will referee the mill, and as he has had much experience at Schofield, the fans can rest assured that they will see a real exhibition. In the previous bouts Captain Glassford has kept the men going from gong to gong, and with these two ring artists it will hardly be necessary, as they have an old score to settle.

Semi-Finalists Training.

Both Bobrowski and Scott who will appear in the semi-final are getting in trim, and the last week the former was taking his daily jaunts along the beach to Moanalua, while Scott was working out with his sparring partners. Bobrowski showed enough at the Y. M. C. A. scrap on Saturday evening to convince his followers that he has a chance, and although he did not slam his opponent around much, he proved that he had a good kick.

The largest crowd that has attended a bout in the city this year is expected when the big wrestling program opens on Saturday evening. Seats are now selling at Gunst's end at all the post exchanges, and Manager Fred Wichman announces a large advance sale. With thousands of boxing fans in the city the armory should be packed when the show begins.

New York' Champion

Herbert Vollmer, the young swimmer of Columbia University who made a new indoor record for the 220-yard swim last evening in New York. Duke Kahanaokalani did not compete in the finals, having failed to qualify. In his races to date Vollmer has proved to be the star of the mainland, and it is hoped that he will make the trip to Hawaii this year to meet Duke in open water.

VOLLMER BREAKS RECORD IN 220-YARD SWIM EVENT

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)

NEW YORK, April 11.—Herbert Vollmer, the Columbia University star swimmer, established a new world record for the 220-yard indoor swim in a ninety-four foot tank with eight turns here last night, negotiating the distance in 2:23 2-5. The former record was held by C. M. Daniels, who made 2:25 2-0.

In a special race Duke Kahanaokalani proved that he could swim the century race by winning out from a fast head in the last time of 54 3-5. Duke did not compete in the 220-yard swim, having been eliminated in the trials at bridgeport. Duke Kahanaokalani will swim at St. Louis and Chicago in the A. A. U. meets, besides participating in the various invitational meets.

HEALANI CREWS WORKING HARD FOR BIG RACE

Three Crews Will Enter Regatta Which Will Be Held at Pearl Harbor July 4

In preparation for the coming regatta the Healani crews have been working out in the harbor every afternoon with the seniors, juniors and freshmen hard at work. To date the freshmen have shown plenty of spirit, and much good material has been secured for the freshmen boat this year.

Charles Brown and Fred Wichman, two of the stars on last year's senior crew, have announced that they will not handle an oar this year, but the club members predict that both will be in action before very long. The call of the water has been too much for them in past years, and it is expected that both will be in their seats when the starter sends them off at the regatta at Pearl Harbor.

Many Recruits.

The recent campaign for membership brought a number of likely looking candidates for seats, and it is thought that when the training season has advanced further along that the freshman crew will show more strength than ever before. Last year's members of the freshman crew are working hard to land a place in the junior and senior boats, and with hard work it is thought that many of them will have an excellent chance to make good.

Predictions are made around the club that the Healani will be strong contenders for every honor this year, and many figure that the crews are due for a clean sweep. Only the hardest kind of work will bring them around to shape, as it is known that the Myrtles and Honolulu are both making every effort to win out this year.

Outing On 4th.

With the regatta on July 4, it will give the members of the club and their friends an opportunity to spend an outing at Pearl Harbor. Every arrangement will be made to give these present an enjoyable time, and with the regatta, dancing and impromptu speech making these who journey out on the excursion train can be assured of a good time.

Members of the Healani are expecting a harder fight from the Honolulu than last year, and with three crews fighting for first in every event the devotees of the rowing game will look forward to a successful season. The Honolulu Club will soon have their clubhouse finished and will be in position to entertain by the time of the Pearl Harbor regatta.

Connie Mack will bring his Athletic squad to Boston for four days and will make an effort to show that he has

Major League Season on Tomorrow in Eight Cities

GAMES TOMORROW.

American League.

At Chicago—Detroit Tigers vs. Chicago White Sox.
At Cleveland—Cleveland Indians vs. St. Louis Browns.
At Boston—Philadelphia Athletics vs. Boston Red Sox.
At New York—Washington Senators vs. New York Yankees.

National League.

At Brooklyn—Boston Braves vs. Brooklyn Superbas.
At Philadelphia—New York Giants vs. Philadelphia Quakers.
At St. Louis—Pittsburgh Pirates vs. St. Louis Cardinals.
At Cincinnati—Chicago Cubs vs. Cincinnati Reds.

Tomorrow afternoon the Star-Bulletin will publish the first scores of the big league games and to Honolulu fans the big classic of the year will start off with a bang. Never before in the history of the game has the teams in the two leagues looked to be so evenly matched and a great fight for the flag is expected in both leagues.

Every team in the National League is considered to have a chance for the pennant this year, while the two weak teams in the American League have been strengthened, and with the addition of Tris Speaker the Cleveland squad will make a better showing.

Tigers and Sox at Chicago.

The great rivals, the Tigers and the White Sox, will begin their fight tomorrow at the South Side Park, and in these games Jennings will have an idea of how his team will shape up in the pitching department. Chicago has a number of strong hurlers, and with the infield jobs filled, should make a great race for honors.

With Tris Speaker, Clete Gandy and Ivan Howard in the lineup, Dunn's Sixth City squad will not look so bad as last year, and the Cleveland fans are certain to turn out when the Indians meet Fiedler Jones' aggregation from St. Louis. The Brown boss will use a number of his former Fed stars and should show up well, but with Morton and Mitchell in shape the Indians look to have a good chance to grab at least two of the four games.

Mack at Boston.

Connie Mack will bring his Athletic squad to Boston for four days and will make an effort to show that he has at least started the building up of the team. With Foster and Leonard to open the series, the Sox look to have a big edge on the Philadelphia squad.

Walter Johnson will be the selection for the Senators when they line up against the New York Yankees at the Polo grounds. Donovan will have the two Rays to use against the Griffins, and both Caldwell and Fisher are said to be ready for the fray. With Baker, Magee, Caldwell and Johnson as attractions, the crowd in Gotham should be the best of the year.

National League Race.

In Toner's league the fight will begin from the first game and should continue on throughout the league race. Boston and Brooklyn will hook up in the opener at Brooklyn, and these two teams which will make a fight for the pennant will clash in a series. Both teams have good pitching departments and rank well up in other angles of the game.

At the Quaker City John McGraw, with Benny Kauff and a few others, will try to stop the Quakers. If the Little Napoleon had a star pitching staff it would be curtains for the other teams, but the Giant staff cannot be figured in the same class with many of the other squads. Alexander vs. Tarsan will perhaps be the order of the day.

Jimmy Callahan will journey down to Mr. Busch's village to meet Miller Huggins' Cardinals. Many of the critics have picked these teams to fight it out for the cellar position, but the race is only on its way, and with good pitching, these two teams may still figure with the other aggregations.

Joe and Buck at Cincinnati.

Joe Tinker and Buck Herzog will have a little argument in Rhinecland. Joe opines that his squad is the class of the league, while the Cincinnati people always claim a pennant. If Toney can live up to his last year's reputation the Reds should be around the top all year.

Watch the Star-Bulletin tomorrow for the results of the games in the major league. The interest is at fever heat this year and Honolulu fans should secure the returns each day. No collection of fans in the world so far away from the baseball scene as Honolulu begins to follow the game as the fans in Hawaii do, and as before the scores will be published on Page 1 each day. Keep in touch with the game.

BRAVES WIN VICTORY OVER KAIMUKI SQUAD AT ARMSTRONG FIELD

The Braves met and defeated the Kaimuki baseball team at Fort Armstrong Sunday morning to the tune of 17 to 7.

The Braves accepted the challenge of the Kaimukis which appeared in the Star-Bulletin about a week ago, the latter boasting of not having met with a single defeat during their entire baseball career. Seemingly the Braves are now the lone victors of the Kaimuki team.

The game was a ragged one throughout, the Braves having no need to "brace up" and play hard. The game only lasted six innings, the Kaimukis then quit, deciding that they had had enough for one day. The Braves hit J. Camacho all over the lot.

In this game the Braves showed their ability to compete strongly in the Junior League and are still looking for games with the local junior teams, desiring to keep in trim for the Junior League series.

The line-ups follow: Braves—J. Perry, p; W. Lee, c; F. Silva, 1b; M. Phillips, 2b; B. Anahu, 3b; M. Mara (captain), ss; L. Silva (assistant manager), 1 f; V. Rosa, c. f.; W. Lopes, r. f.

Kaimukis—J. Camacho, p; Camara, c; Haneburg, 1b; Johnson, 2b; W. Cabral, 3b; L. Camacho, ss; M. Perry, 1 f; J. McGuire, r. f.; A. Nelson, c. f.

The first game of a five-game series between the 159th Company, C. A. C., and the 104th, C. A. C., was staged on the Fort Armstrong grounds Saturday afternoon and was won by the 104th Company, score 6-3. The game was featured by a great deal of heavy hitting. The Mine Planters did some timely hitting in the fourth inning, getting four hits, two of which went for three bases each, scoring three runs. The Kugerites were unable to connect with Hualala's offerings at the proper time, and had six men left on the base, some seemed to be a little off and had poor control of the horsehide for three or four innings, while his support was very weak. The Mine Planters played a fast game in the ninth, making four double plays. Lyuca was the star for the winners, making a last double unassisted and scoring in two of the others. Womack got a line drive over short in the ninth inning, scoring easily from second. This was the first time the 104th Company got. They started with a line drive in their half of the ninth, but a two-base hit by McClain and two singles by White and Smith would only produce two runs.
